The Basics!

My Name is Mrs. Caitlin Oyinlola, pronounced, Oh-yeen-lola. I am the Special Education Resource Teacher for the Kindergarten, First, Third, and Fifth grades. This will be my first year here at MGA, but my sixth year teaching; the last three years were spent teaching Special Education in Glen Burnie and the two years prior I taught pre-Kindergarten here in Laurel. In 2005, I took my first trip to Nigeria, walked out of the airport in the beautiful chaos of Lagos and felt at home. Since, then, Nigeria has been an integral part of my story, most especially being the place where I met my husband, Soji. Soji and I have two preschool-age children, a boy and a girl. I love travelling abroad and lived on and off in Ogun State, Nigeria from 2005-2010, which makes joining the global community here at MGA that much more exciting.

My Childhood!

I am born and raised right here in Laurel (the P.G. county side). I have one brother who lives in California now and my parents still live in Laurel. Throughout my childhood, I enjoyed sports and hated reading—it was hard for me. The adversities that I faced has built an empathy in me for struggling learners.

My Education!

I went to the University of Louisville in Louisville, KY for my undergraduate degree. I earned my BA in Liberal studies, which means I created my own course of study to meet my individual interests in Psychology, Health Promotions, and Religious Studies. I earned my Masters in Leadership in Teaching this past Spring from the University of Notre Dame in Baltimore. I love to learn, especially about different cultures and the different ways we learn. I enjoy working with students with disabilities and continually learning new ways to help them grow and become more independent.
